Bipartisan, innovative ideas to address America’s environmental challenges.

Thank you Senator Collins.

Senator Susan Collins is working across party lines to help solve America’s energy and environmental challenges. While many in Congress seem focused on scoring political points, Senator Collins is working to develop new ideas that can create clean energy jobs, reduce our dependence on imported oil, and help solve global warming.